The Austin Police Department is beginning an aggressive investigation to see if private parking facilities are in compliance with state laws regarding towing unwanted vehicles from private property.

Ask about our Parking Lot Management Program.

We can advise you about every aspect involved in towing vehicles legally from your property, including signs, notice to vehicle owners, and removing vehicles to a licensed storage facility with 24 hour security. We agree to represent property owners and management companies in cases where the vehicle owner might dispute the legality of the tow in a local court. And, we will hold harmless property owners and management companies in these cases and pay all damages or refunds if the court finds in favor of vehicle owner. We will remove junk or dilapidated vehicles (including ones that have no wheels, burned out, broken windows, leaking fluids, or flat tires) from your property as quickly as any other type. They will be removed within the time allowed by law.

We have full insurance coverage, including auto liability, cargo, garage keepers, and workman's compensation that will allow you to feel safe with our company working for you.

We are an owner/operated company, and we have 30 years experience in the City of Austin. Please call Franklin Sapp to answer any questions, or to have an on site review of your parking facility.

State Law Prohibits Kickbacks of Any Type

J&J drivers can be seen speeding to their storage lot off Bolm Road and Ed Bluestien with no safety chains, some vehicle taking of two vehicles and most front wheel drive vehicle damaged due to being dragged in park across the parking lot.

Furthermore, none of the towing signs that bear J&J Towing's name are in compliance with State Law. If you are towed from a parking lot and the towing sign states: "Towing Enforced At All Times", your in luck to collect $1000 plus triple damages, because the phrase underneath the towing symbol can only say "Towing Enforced".
